Science cooperation

in higher education

The OeAD Cooperation Office Shanghai is a service platform for higher education institutions, scientists and students who are interested in cooperation, research or study periods in Austria and China.

Focus: Support of projects in education, science and research
As a competent partner the OeAD Cooperation Office Shanghai provides advice, promotes and facilitates projects in higher education, science and research. We facilitate institutional cooperation between Austria and China and coordinate and support their implementation in China. Vice versa the OeAD supports representatives of Chinese higher education in their search for partners in Austria.

Focus: Student’s support
For Chinese students the OeAD provides information and guidance regarding higher education in Austria and about study and grant/scholarship options. For Austrian students the cooperation office offers information and support respecting higher education and grants in China and manages and supports study trips to China.
